David Jean

David was born and raised in Haiti. Coming from a small town of Baradères in South Haiti, David moved to Port-au-Prince at a very young age. Growing up in Port-au-Prince, David attended and graduated High School from Izmary.....David was on the school campus when the 2010 earthquake hit the city. He is a real-life hero, helping to save many lives on the day of the earthquake and the days after in many search and rescue missions. After graduation David attended University Yahvé Nissi where he studied Refrigeration and Air Conditioning Technician. David currently lives in Fondfred, just outside of Les Cayes, with his wife Rose and their son and daughter. He is involved in sports activities in the community and a member of the committee for the community Soccer League, he also serves as a coach and trainer.
